Frequently Asked Questions

Why are the prices so high?

Since we are a non-profit organization, the costs reflect the "break even point" for the dinner and afterglow. When you consider the quality of the food, the fact that it includes dinner, afterglow, beer, soda, gratuity and tax...the prices are in line with five star restaurant in the Milwaukee Area.

Will dinner and afterglow tickets be sold separately?

The short answer is...no. The long answer is...This would be almost impossible to control and administer given the timing of the planned sit down dinner, program and afterglow. We sincerely hope everyone can plan to participate in the entire evening of food and entertainment.

Will tickets be available at the door?

The short answer is...no. The long answer is...The sit down dinner requires that we furnish the exact number of people attending and their food orders one week prior to the event.

Do tickets have to be ordered in advance?

Since the exact number of attendees is required, tickets will have to be ordered in advance. As details become firm, order forms will be provided to each Chorus for this purpose. The returned form will serve as your commitment to the number of tickets you will require.

Once tickets are ordered, can the numbers and food orders be changed?

Every effort will be made to accommodate changes up to three weeks prior to the event (This will allow time for the administrative folks to react to the changes). Once we reach the cut off date, we will be required to pay for the number of tickets ordered (whether the person attends or not). This means if you cover the cost of the absentee we will break even...if we must bear the cost of "no shows", we will operate at a loss.

Can tickets be paid for in advance?

This is the preferred way of handling the transaction, since it will demonstrate your commitment to attend and simplify administrative activities the day of the event. If it is not possible to pay in advance, you can submit a check for the total amount on your choruses order form prior to the afternoon rehearsal (please remember, at this point, no changes can be made).
